ANNUAL REPORT

— OF —

The Superintendent of Schools

— OF THE —

TOWN OF PLAINFIELD, CONN.

JULY, 1912.

TO THE TOWN SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Gentlemen:—

I have the honor to submit to you the Seventh Annual Report of the Superintendent of Schools.

The past year has witnessed few changes in the general policies governing our schools. We are not forced to record any interruptions of our school work throughout the year by reason of epidemics of contagious diseases, and with one or two exceptions we have retained the same staff of teachers throughout the year.

While we show a slight loss in the number of children (between the ages of 4 and 16) enumerated (1493 this year as against 1500 last year), our registration has gained from 1077 to 1107; average membership has increased from 871 to 898; average attendance shows an increase from 813.6 to 846.3, and percentage of average attendance to average membership increased from .938 to .942. There have been 550 cases of tardiness as against 670 for last year, and the number of half-days absence has fallen from 20,978 to 20,063. Below is given a table showing the figures for enumeration, registration, average attendance and the cost per scholar for the past eight years:

Year	Enum.	Regist.	Av. Attend.	Cost based on Regist.	Cost based on Av. Att.
1905	1271	985	675	$19.19	$28.28
1906	1310	946	665	16.84	24.74
1907	1310	944	688	25.69	29.51
1908	1394	981	759	21.53	27.09
1909	1448	1033	798	20.51	25.18
1910	1552	1088	805	16.71	23.81
1911	1500	1077	813	18.01	23.84
1912	1493	1107	846	19.66	26.77

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

The remarkable fact in the above table is the steady increase in average attendance. Enumeration and registration, while showing marked gains in the eight year period, have fluctuated, but our average attendance has steadily increased until we have in our schools every day nearly two hundred pupils more than we had eight years ago. In the same period the average attendance in schools, other than public schools, of children from the town of Plainfield has increased from 75 to 200, thus showing a steady growth in our school population.

It is evident that our school attendance is exceedingly good, and with the same care and attention it should grow better each year. It shows a better spirit in the schools and a desire on the part of the parents and the children themselves for the education our schools can give them. It shows an awakened interest in education and a realization of the necessity for a grounding, at least, in grammar school subjects.

Teachers.

Eight new teachers were required to fill our vacancies one year ago. Two teachers left during the year and one was absent during half the year because of illness. In spite of this, the work in our schools progressed more rapidly and the averages of the pupils in half year and final examinations were better than ever before. The final examinations this year were more searching than usual and the results were very satisfactory. Of the thirty-two pupils in our eighth grades taking examinations for admission to high school but two failed to attain the passing average of 70 per cent., and more than half the number were well up in the eighties.

For the coming year we have added two more teachers to our staff to provide for two additional rooms in Plainfield Village, and with these we have been obliged to engage thirteen teachers to fill all our positions. We now have thirty-four teachers on our rolls, making Plainfield the twenty-ninth town in the State in number of teachers employed. While we must expect a few changes every year, we should not be obliged to change a third of our staff, and to engage and retain good teachers from year to year we must meet the salaries paid in other places.

High School.

Plainfield High School is an established fact. It is seven years since its doors were first opened and the gains made by the school in that time, not alone in numbers but in equipment, teaching force, and prestige are well worthy of note. The scholarship of our pupils, the excellent laboratories, the personnel of our faculty and the wholesome spirit of the school mark us as being able to take rank with older institutions, and as ready and able to provide for the children of Plainfield and the surrounding towns a secondary training that is worth while. Our doors are open to all who are qualified to pursue work that is beyond grammar school grade and we cheerfully welcome inspection by the most critical. To our townspeople we extend a cordial invitation to inspect the school at any time, and we know that many who have visited us have been favorably impressed with the school. Our graduates, now numbering thirty-two, are making places for themselves, either in higher institutions or in their chosen vocations, and they form a loyal band of friends and supporters of their alma mater.

The future success of the High School, however, depends not alone upon the work done in the school, but upon the preparation of those pupils who seek admission. These must have a thorough grounding in the fundamentals in order to pursue the higher branches successfully. To admit a pupil who is unable to do the work of the average grammar school is to put a stumbling block in the path of his classmates; to retain such a pupil for any considerable period will spell disaster, a dangerous lowering of our standard and a loss of prestige which no school can afford.

Our own grammar schools must be kept up to standard and must increase their efficiency year by year. We must select our grade teachers with exceeding care; we must have school libraries, maps, apparatus and the other necessary tools of the trade. The time has passed when Mark Hopkins, a log, and a boy constitute a university, and even Professor Eliot's five-foot book shelf is likely to need some stretching.

An ingenious mechanic can do much without tools, but it is absolute folly for him to work without tools when they may be easily obtained.

Our schools must be run according to the best pedagogical ideas, but they must also be run upon strictly business principles. We must be neither extravagant nor penurious, but we must spend wisely when expenditure is necessary, and make as much of our expenditure, as possible, permanent investment from which we shall receive large returns in higher manhood and womanhood, in greater industrial efficiency, and in a peaceful and secure commonwealth and nation in the years to come.

It is not so much what our pupils may learn, as what may be the influence of that learning upon their future lives, that is the vital question for us at the present time. From the experience of the past we must learn to plan for the future, and if we plan as wisely as we should the future generations will find a secure foundation upon which to rear greater superstructures as they need.

Respectfully submitted,

J. L. CHAPMAN.
